Kids know themselves and they know what they like. It's as simple as that. Give them something they don't like and they won't be impressed. The oio eyewear range has captured the imagination of kids from the very start. These are the glasses with a cool design. And thanks to the wonders of TITANflex, these glasses are incredible flexible and can cope with virtually any challenge that those little rascals have in store! What's more, they won't pinch those little noses as they have been specially designed to suit the facial features of kids. This means optimum fit and optimum comfort.

Crush is the perfect eyewear collection for any young person who love variety. A crush wearer goes through life with a sense of adventure and knows exactly what they want. When selecting their eyewear, they look for individuality in their frames and don't like to blend into a mainstream look. Crush provides trendy glasses which impress with their stunning design, great colours and creative and technical product features.
